Baseball in Cairo' has not drawn well this senson. ### HAGER, JAMES AND HAYS CANDIDATES

Deduction From Result of Me-Creary Conference.

Itenson Illackburn Withdrew Was Hope That Peyor Might Come Into Camp.

Louisville, Ky., July 19 .- The conference of the supporters of Senator McCreary, held in Louisville yesterday, will probably be followed by a conference of the friends of Governoe Beckham and Mr. James, also to be held in this city in a few dnys.

The formal announcement of Cougressman James' candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor ls expected to be given out Fridsy or Saturday, but it is positively asserted at Marlon, Ky., the home of Mr. James, that a cablegram has heen received from the First district congressman announcing his candidacy and that this cahlegram will be unide public at the proper time.

The moment Mr. James announces the line of battle will be formed, not only in the governor's race, but for the minor offices, and a despersto struggle for the control of the party organization will follow.

The notion of Mr. McCreary's friends in falling to bring out another candidate for governor yesterday and in practically deciding to support Judge Henry Illnes for the office of nuditor was for a double purpose. Senutor Blackburn expected to make the race for governor when he came to Louisville yesterday, but Mr. McCreary was not in favor of It, Mr. McCreary knows that the political developments of the next few days may drive Judge W. S. Pryor late his comp, and he was not willing to close the door of hope against Judge Hager by formally hringing out another candidate for governor.

For this reason the conference adjouraed yesterday, witbout formal nctiea other than that Mr. Blackburn should not run for governor, and that the consensus of opinion among those present was that all the followers of Senntor McCreary should anpport Attorney General N. B. Hays for governor. This was not finally closed, however, as an openlag was left for the opening-up of negotintions with Judge Hager, if this may those of Judge Henry Hines.

NUMBERS ARE FALLING OFF.

Uritish people, but there is another ment out of a total population of 34,152,927, which was n ratio of 22.9 paupers to every 1,000 of the inhabitants. Of these 247,256 were la public institutions, nimshouses and homes for the friendless and destitute, while 535,166 were receivlug outdoor relief, that 1-, food or money of both from ageacles mainlages for the distribution, of that form of assistance.

It should be said that here has pendents upon charity among a popilren-was depeadent upon public charity for his support. Since that date pauperism has gradually decilneil. Low tide was reached in numbers in 1891, when there were only 650,921 persons receiving relief From that date there has been a gradual increase, keeping pace with that of the population, although the ratlo per 1,000 has gone down and reached the lowest point in 1900, when 21.1 per 1,000 were receiving

Proportion of Pamerism.

These are extraordinary figures and it must always be horne in mind that they refer to the rural as well as the city population of England and Wales. Very naturnily the largest number of paupers are found in the factory towns, but ao village is without them. The rural paupers are usually aged people, whose children have deserted them for London and other cities and left them to be taken care of in their old age at public expense, or deserted women, or widows of soliliers who have been kliled in the war, or, cripples and helpless children. The figures, however, do not include the immates of lasune asylums or institutions for the feeble-nilnded, desf, dunib and of ordinary diseasen, but they do embrace the lamates of homes for incurables and the aged. Nor do they include those receiving pensions from the government.

On the first of January last, out of a population of 4,684,794 in the city of London, 117,881 paupers and lin a number of were helag supported by the government, a ratio of 25.2 per 1,000. Of cloudbursts. theso 75,247 were being taken care of in public institutions and 42,634 were receiving outdoor relief. There has been a decrease in the city pauperlsm corresponding to that in the country at large. In 1866, when the population of London was just turning the 3,000,000 mark, 129,491 paupers were being supported by the government, or 42.6 per 1,000. The number and the ratio coathned to lucrease until 1870, when the top notch was reached, with a total of 142,303 persons and a ratio of 44.8 per 1,000 dependent upon the ecmmunity. The number as well as the ratio then began to decrease rapidly until 1878, when low water mrk was reached, and a lotat of 80,841, or a ratio of 22.5 per 1,000, is reported. In 1900 the total was 99,386 and the ratio 22.1. Slace that date there has been gradual increase at tributed to the South African war, the increased cost of living, ladustrial depression and other causes .-Wm, E. Curtis in Chicago Record-Herald.

OUR FINAL CLOSING SUMMER SALE

THIS is the last, and will be, beyond doubt, the greatest sale ever put on by us in Paducah. This sale includes every article beneath our roof, and the old or regular price is not considered this month. Every year we do this and we've found it profitable to both you and ourselves. The line of goods we offer are not old and shop worn, but consist of the best grades of newest merchandise. Our store will be closed this afternoon so as to enable our salespeople to mark down every garment in our store and tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock the great Clean Up and Closing Out Summer Sale will begin and continue until all the summer goods are sold. We've had our profits on these goods; we've sold lots of them and made money on them, now it's your time, and what we have now in stock you will be buying for less than its value, even considering the time of year. We figure the dollar's worth more to us than the goods in our store that we'd be glad to sacrifice next season. We also figure the people of Paducah and its vicinity are entitled to these sales once a year, because they have aided us in business and caused us success the other portion of the time.
